Mysterious lady in black passes through Pendleton Co.

Information and photos gathered by April DeFalco with Karen Hyden contributing

A mysterious woman dressed all in black making her way north on U.S. 27 caused quite a stir in Pendleton County when she passed through the area on July 21. Elizabeth Pole, a 57-year-old mother of five, was born in Alabama and now makes her home in Winchester, Virginia. Making her way quietly along, she is "just out about her business," says Falmouth Police Chief Mark Posey, who provided the stranger with transportation to the Walmart in Alexandria. She excepted the ride because she had hurt her ankle. "She doesn't come across as some evil, supernatural person. She does know her Bible and is very religious."

According to Posey, Pole carries water and food in the bag she wears strapped across her shoulder as well as a World Mastercard and passport. Many have offered her help along the way, but she refuses. On occasion she will accept rides from police officers. She sleeps in places with lighting for safety and at Walmart stores.

Supposedly, her car was stolen and stripped in North Carolina. She has no driver's license according to Posey and referred to "they" when she spoke of the incident with her car. So it is to be assumed that someone else was with her at one time since she doesn't drive. Her family keeps in touch with her whereabouts, but it's not known exactly how since she doesn't carry a cell phone.

Pole shared with Posey that she was born in Alabama, but her family moved to an Islamic country where she was kidnapped at a young age. She told him she had worked for the federal government at one time.

"She is very friendly and is clean, even with being out walking,"observed Posey, "and is dark complected. She says at home

Pendleton Historical Society needs information on veterans

The Pendleton County Historical and Genealogical Society has an upcoming project and needs the help of local residents. They are planning to publish a book to honor Pendleton County veterans. In order for them to do this they need a picture of the veteran and a brief biography. The biography should include full name, parents' names, spouse, and children. If preferred, any living spouse or children would not be included. One should also include which branch of service, rank, where they served, and war if applicable. If the veteran is from a much earlier time or no picture is available, just the biography is good since they want to include them.

The Pendleton County Historical Society knows these photos are precious to families and therefore will do a scan of the pictures if necessary. The Fryer House in Butler is open the first and third Tuesday of each month as well as the third Saturday of the month for regular meetings. Plans can be made to do scans on these dates. If you are unable to make any of these dates, contact: fryerhouse41006@gmail.com and someone will reply to set up a date for those who are interested. You can also send your veteran's picture and biography to this email address or mail it to: Pendleton County Historical and Genealogical Society, PO Box 130, Falmouth, KY 41040. Attention: Suzan Taylor.

Mitch McConnell met with business leaders and public officials

By Roger McKinney, Reporter

United States Senator, Mitch McConnell, met last Friday with Pendleton County business leaders and public officials. The gathering took place in Falmouth City Hall's Council Chambers at 1:30 p.m. Some 75 individuals were in attendance. Falmouth Mayor, Mark Hart, introduced the Senate Minority Leader. Senator McConnell said "First, I will give you my take on the condition of the country and then the floor will be open for questions."

(If you are a Republican you may very well agree with what the senator will say, but if you are a Democrat, what follows here may rocket your blood pressure past the Moon).

"I think our country is in a lot of trouble," said McConnell, "I remind you that winners make policy and losers go home. There are consequences to an election. In 2008 Barack Obama and his party won a big victory. They captured the Presidency, a 40 seat majority in the U.S. House and they had 60 seats in the U.S. Senate. His party had complete control. And what did they do with that control? They passed a stimulus package. They passed Obamacare. They passed the Dodd-Frank Act, which is Obamacare for the banks. They sent an army of regulators into every aspect of the federal government, crawling all over every business in the country, with the view that if you're making a profit, you must be up to no good, you're cheating your customers and you're mistreating your employees."

Senator McConnell said that President Obama declared a war on coal that has created a depression in Eastern Kentucky with 21 thousand jobs lost. The senator said that the war has caused utility rates to go up across the state. "This administration has been bad for the country, but it has been particularly for Kentucky." McConnell said.

The senator speculated on President Obama's strategy from 2009 through 2010, when he was in complete control, "I think he wanted to turn America into a Western European country, which would be a nation with big debt, high taxes, slow growth and high employment."

Senator McConnell said that after President Bill Clinton lost the house and the senate in the 1990s he moved away from the left and toward the center and he did business with the Republicans. McConnell said that after President Obama lost the house in 2010 and failed to win it back in 2012, "I thought he might make a Clintonian Pivot back to the center, but he did not." Then the senator speculated on why Obama didn't pivot, "I think his strategy is to depend on the regulators to work for the executive branch to achieve his goals and to count on the U.S. Senate to keep him from being interrupted."

The Minority Leader said, "We know the President has made a mess of the country, but how about overseas? Can you think of any place where we are better off than when he took office?" Senator McConnell said that two years ago the President should have provided weapons to the Syrian Rebels and that he should arm the Ukrainian Military now.

Then, the Minority Leader made a reference to Kentucky Secretary of State, Alison Lundergan Grimes, "I have an opponent in this year's election. The argument is certainly correct that she is a new face, but I remind you that she's a new face with no change at all. The same senate. The same senate. The same majority leader, who said, (Coal makes you sick!) So, you know how she stands on coal and another vote for Obama." Senator McConnell continued, "If you want to change the country, change the senate and make me the leader of the majority. We will take America in a totally different direction."

At this point the floor was open for questions. The first question was: How can EPA regulations for coal burning power plants be improved? Mitch McConnell's answer was to change the senate, change the president, change the head of the EPA, change the regulators and change the regulations.

The second question was: How do you feel toward women's rights in regard to equal pay for equal work and about the debate on whether or not to cover contraception? Senator McConnell's answer was, "The Democrat's so called War on Women is ridiculous! Just to give you an example of how I lead my own life: Most of you know my wife was Secretary of Labor during the George W. Bush Administration. She's the only Kentucky woman that's ever been in a president's cabinet. I have three daughters. I have a grandson. What a bunch of nonsense that Republicans are anti-women! The issue of equal pay for equal work is important. It's already the law. And if somebody violates that law they can be sued. And on contraception I don't know anyone that's opposed to contraception. Here's what the Hobby Lobby case was about: There were twenty different types of contraception. The private company that owned Hobby Lobby objected to four of the twenty choices for religious reasons. The Supreme Court said-If you have religious objections to that you can opt out of covering the four. The Democrats are trying to blow that decision into a full scale attack on the availability of contraception, which is nonsense. It is another way to change the subject away from all the damage they've done to the country. They don't want to talk about jobs. They don't want to talk about Obamacare. If you're looking for something that's bad for women, Obamacare ought to be at the top of your list.

The next question was: How would you redo or correct the Affordable Care Act? Senator McConnell critiqued Obamacare and then he explained how he would construct a national health care program.

Mitch McConnell was asked to comment on the trouble at the Veterans Administration regarding health care. The senator said that the department's head should have the right to fire those who failed to perform their duties properly. He also said, that if veterans had to wait for medical treatment they should have the option to seek services elsewhere. McConnell said that President Barack Obama's nomination of Bob McDonald for Secretary of Veterans Affairs was outstanding. The Minority Leader said that McDonald's nomination should be approved within a week.

McConnell was asked about recent changes to the senate's rules. The senator said that Harry Reid had made changes in order that the president's nominations to various positions could be more quickly approved. McConnell said, "These guys make it up as they go along"'

Senator McConnell was asked about the current status of the Biggert-Waters Flood Insurance Reform Act. The senator said he wasn't up to speed on the law, but he would check it out and get back with the person who asked the question.

After the meeting was concluded Senator Mitch McConnell stood by the exit door and shook hands with each person as they left the chambers.

she enjoys watching westerns and reading Scripture, and having an occasional glass of wine."

She told him that she is not on a mission nor is she preaching, since women are not allowed to do these things according to her faith.

"She said she lives on her own since her babies no longer required milk," Posey shared with a chuckle.

In a confrontation with an unknown man in Wise County, Virginia as seen on YouTube, she claims not to have come to preach, but for the third war. She speaks of Smith Station, Alabama where supposedly the shields came up and she and those fighting with her prevailed. Having fulfilled her purpose she is now traveling towards home.

Pole told Chief Posey that she and her children are part of a royal priesthood and all of her children serve King Jesus.

April DeFalco of Falmouth says, "If her mission was to draw attention to the word, she is doing just that. Everyone is talking about her."

People are following her journey with interest from as far away as Ireland and Australia. One man on Facebook stated that it's the first time in 15 years that he's opened his Bible. Many are turning to Hebrews 13:2 which tells readers not to neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by doing so some have entertained angels without knowing it.

Elizabeth Pole may be a dedicated believer, but it is doubtful that she would consider herself an angel. Rather, a humble servant of her god and soldier in the fight against evil.

Miller attended 71st annual conservation convention

Pendleton County Conservation District Supervisor Larry Miller attended the 71st Annual Kentucky Association of Conservation District Convention, July 13-15 in Louisville, Ky.

Activities began on Sunday morning with registration and the annual Soil Stewardship program. Pendleton County received the State award for their observance of the National Soil Stewardship Week held this year April 27 through May 4. This annual observance is to make people aware of "WhereaIid How" did the earth begin. We take this program into all the churches in the county, the public Library, and many other groups. Sunday afternoon everyone enjoyed a guided Heritage Tour of Jefferson County.

Monday and Tuesday were days to enchange ideals, learn new ways to accomplish our mission, and visit with other friends and to make new friends. Speakers for the conventions included Mr. Noopie Cosby, Selma, Ala.; Earl Garber, NACD President; Commissioner Gregory Johnson, Ky Department of Fish and Wildlife; Paulette Akers, Ky Division of Water and several more speakers giving ideas and encouragement to continue working with landowners to improve, preserve and develop their land for the good of all people.

Of course, the business session was held on Tuesday afternoon. Several Resolutions were presented by County Conservation Districts. Some were accepted and some failed, hopefully they will make the conservation districts of Kentucky stronger.

Election of Officers for the next two years was held; President will be Mr. David Rowlett (Carroll County); Vice President, Mr. Shane Wells (Butler County) and Secretary/Treasurer, Mr. Allen Bryant (Henry County).

The 121 County Conservation District of Kentucky are divided into areas. Pendleton County is in Area five along with Boone, Carroll, Bracken, Gallatin, Henry, Nicholas, Robertson, Campbell, Grant, Kenton, Owen and Trimble County. Our Division of Kentucky Field Representive is Linda Hunter of Gallatin County.

If you have a conservation question, call the Pendleton County Conservation District Office at 859-654-3376, ext. 3 or visit us at our office, 814 U.S. 27 South (USDA Service Center), Falmouth, to speak to an NRCS specialist.

Also, any of the Pendleton County Conservation District Supervisors will be glad to help you, they are: Will Browning, Chairperson; Gregory Wolfe, Vice Chairperson; Chris Robles, Secretary; E. A. Monroe III (Alex), Treasurer; Robert P. McClanahan, Assistant Treasurer; Robert Jones, Member and Larry W. Miller, Member. Kay Williams is the Administrative Secretary. Mr. Miller enjoyed the convention and brought back lots of good ideals for our District. He would like to see more Supervisors attend these Annual Conventions, next year it will be held in Bowling Green-Kentucky.

All services and programs are offered on a non-discriminatory basis.

SOCIETY

Elijah Browning and Catharine Cleveland were married July 29, 1840 in Pendleton County.

BRIANA LEIGH PLYMALE & ASA SAMUEL CROZIER

Crozier ~ Plymale wed

Briana Leigh Plymale and Asa Samuel Crozier were united in marriage on May 10, 2014 at the Harmony Freewill Baptist Church in Wayne, West Virginia. Briana is the daughter of Garland and the late Donna Plymale of Wayne and Asa is the son of Rev. Harry and Karen Crozier of Berry. Reverend Harry, father of the groom officiated the wedding.

Escorted by her father, Briana looked like a princess in an ivory/blush Eve of Milady floor length gown. It was strapless with a hand beaded sheer embroidered bodice and a circular tulle line skirt. The dress was embellished with beading and floral print.

For her matron of honor, Briana chose her sister Jessica Adams, her bridesmaids were cousins, Amber Kounse and Brandi Lambert, friends Stephanie Wallace and Samantha Nelson and sister of the groom Jasmine Crozier. Asa's best man was brother Abram Crozier, groomsmen were brothers Adam, Aaron, and Alex Crozier, cousin Jeremy Moore and best friend Steven Auchter. Asa's youngest brother Randall was ring bearer and Savannah Fizer, cousin of the bride and Addison LeMaster friend of the bride were flower girls.

The ladies in attendance wore chiffon cocktail length dresses in aqua that featured a sheer one shoulder neckline. The gentlemen complimented the dresses with black tuxedos and aqua vests and ties. Aqua and corral were the color theme throughout. A reception was held in the church hall immediately following.

New student registration

New student registration for Pendleton County Schools will be held from 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. on Wednesday, July 30 at the District Student Service Building, located at 6762 Hwy 27 North, Butler, KY., 41006.

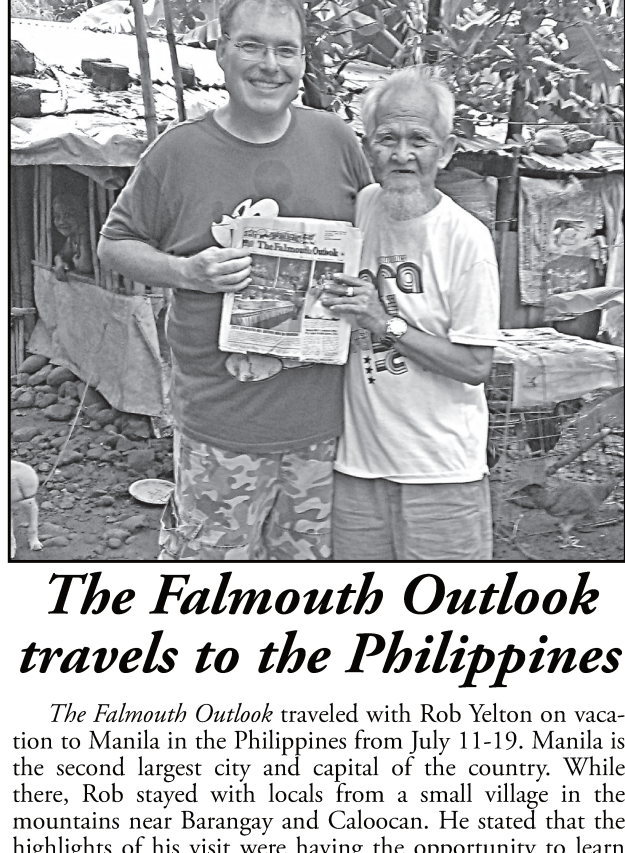

Successful cake auction held at the county fair

The second annual Homemaker Cake Auction was held the evening of Monday, July 21 at the Griffin Centre during the annual Pendleton County Youth Fair. Twenty-one cakes were made and donated by members of the six Pendleton County Homemaker Clubs. This year's auction was a rousing success with over $1,000 received for the Pendleton County Homemakers Scholarship Fund. Pictured from left are Pendleton County Homemaker Council President Judie Lambert, reprising her role as "Vanna White" and Billy Hall, who again volunteered as auctioneer for the evening. The Homemakers want to thank everyone for making this evening fun and a great success. By Monica Yeamans, Homemaker Reporter.

Williamsons obtain gold at National Classic Car Show

Mark and Angela Williamson of Butler attended the 32nd annual Nova Nationals in Columbus, Ohio from July 16-19, 2014. Their 1978 Nova 9C1 Police Coupe is the only one known to exist. After extensive judging they obtained Gold status, the highest award level for a show car. The cars are judged according to the Antique Automobile Club of America (AACA) strict guidelines. In addition, they were selected as the best 1973-1979 Nova in the show class, People's Choice Award winners in the 1973-1979 show class and lastly, the Iowa Nova Chapter Award for the best Nova in the entire show. A special thanks to Tim Norton Automotive for keeping the car mechanically perfect, and to Tom Woolery for the use of his truck and trailer.

The Falmouth Outlook travels to the Philippines

The Falmouth Outlook traveled with Rob Yelton on vacation to Manila in the Philippines from July 11-19. Manila is the second largest city and capital of the country. While there, Rob stayed with locals from a small village in the mountains near Barangay and Caloocan. He stated that the highlights of his visit were having the opportunity to learn the local customs and culture and meeting the people from the area. A massive typhoon with winds surpassing 160 mph struck near Taal Volcano during his stay causing extreme damage and devastating the city. Despite the tragedy, Rob described his trip as "extraordinary." Pictured from left: Rob Yelton is shown holding The Outlook with one of the locals in the village where he stayed.

Southern Elementary to hold annual "Good Start" August 7

Southern Elementary and the South Family Resource Center will "kick off" the 2014-2015 school year by hosting the 15th annual "Good Start" Back to School Festival from 4-6 p.m. on Thursday, August 7.

Good Start will give parents, families, and students the opportunity to meet their new teachers and classrooms for the first time and also interact with several local agencies from here in Pendleton County and Northern Kentucky.

This year, Good Start is excited to announce that L'oreal will be attending and handing out shampoo/conditioner to qualifying Southern Elementary families that evening. Not only that, there will also be several door prizes to win including Cincinnati Zoo tickets and free tickets to the Newport Aquarium! Be sure to stop by the South Family Resource Center booth to find out how to win door prizes that evening!

Southern Elementary and the South Family Resource Center hopes to see students and parents on August 7! Don't miss this great opportunity to have a "good start" to the 2014-2015 school year!

Stroub ~ Switzer Family Reunion

The annual Stroub - Switzer Reunion will be at 1 p.m. on Sunday, August 3 at Unity Christian Church, located on Ky. Hwy 36 West. It will held in the fellowship hall which is air conditioned. The meal is potluck. All paper products will be provided. Bring your favorite dish(es) to share with everyone plus your drinks.

Please bring your family photos to share with everyone and also be prepared to take group pictures that day.

There will be a silent auction instead of a brown bag auction. The item doesn't have to be expensive though. Examples of items for the auction include handmade crafts, homemade bread, bag or a basket fill with goodies (school supplies, candy, lotions, etc.), candles and more

The family understands that everyone is busy but please plan on coming and enjoying the afternoon. They would like to see a good turnout this year, so get the word out to attend!

The Outlook needs information about local WWII veterans

The Falmouth Outlook is searching the area to find any Pendleton County veteran that served in World War II. These veterans are wanted for recognition articles that will be printed in The Falmouth Outlook.

World War II veterans are an important piece of our history and our present. It is our desire to honor those who have given so much to our country.

Ms. Mildred Dickison

Ms. Dickison is 98 years young and resides at River Valley Nursing Home in Butler. She is a bit hard of hearing as most of us oldies are, but her mind is sharp; she enjoys conversing and has an infectious giggle that cheers and brightens the day for visitors. Furthermore, she remembers in detail many of the experiences she had in her nursing career, particularly her twenty seven and one half years as public health nurse in Pendleton County. She began in Pendleton County in July, 1950.

Backing up, she was born in Dryden, Virginia, half way between Big Stone Gap and Pennington Gap as Mildred Catron, graduating from high school in 1934. Her father operated a small mountain farm and she has pleasant memories of her mother, less so of her father.

Her teen years were hard as our nation struggled thru the greatest depression in our history and the discipline exercised by her father was very strict, but not out of the ordinary for that time and place. Many parents, particularly in the Appalachian Mountains, believed literally in the admonition from Proverbs that to "Spare the rod was to spoil the child." Nurse Dickison recalled her father whipping her with a horse whip, brutishly. Realizing that the only way she could get her father to stop the whipping was to shed some tears, she cried.

Her mother was clever and held the family together. She recalls how her mother allowed a brother and a sister to argue over a social impropriety for several minutes before admitting that she herself was the perpetrator. Finally, in 1936 she found her way to Berea College where all students had to work their way thru school.

She said that the happiest days of her life were the four years she spent at Berea. The studies were difficult, the work was hard, but she said she was in an environment where teachers were supportive and she was treated with dignity and imbued with aspiration and confidence that she could succeed and make a difference in the larger society beyond the hills of Virginia. She said that chemistry was the most difficult subject for her with anatomy and physiology a close second; the professor of the latter was reported to say that two thirds of you will not survive my class.

But she survived the nursing curriculum, one year of which was spent in the old Cincinnati City Hospital. She recalled scrubbing for a major surgery during which she had to wear a mask. The surgeon asked for a certain object and she could not hear him adequately, because she was hard of hearing and had developed lip reading skills, but she could not see the surgeon's lips which were also covered with a mask. He yelled at her, and later she was demoted to minor surgeries where hearing was less important. She became proficient as a participating nurse for hemorrhoid surgery. "I became an expert on recognizing behinds," she chuckled.

After her internship in Richmond, Kentucky at the Madison County Health Department, she was employed by the Pulaski County Board of Health as a public health nurse; a major portion of which included work with the public schools. Pulaski County had 150 public schools, most of which were one room.

Mildred Dickison shortly after she retired as Pendleton County Public Health Nurse.

Pulaski County was where she met Jack Dickison on a blind date. She had no intention of dating him or anyone else, but he was persistent, and after marriage he brought her to Pendleton County where she became well known and feared by the students. (More on this later.) Jack served Pendleton for several years as sheriff and ran a service station at the conjunction of Broadford Road and U.S. 27. Two well known children were born to this union: Paul and Barbara. Dr. Dan Storer told me on an occasion when we were together on a Rotary activity that he had married into a highly principled family, he being married to Barbara. But this article is about our 98-year-old nurse.

Nurse Dickison became the first Public Health Nurse for Pendleton County and worked with Dr.Virginia Daugherty Kratz who was the mother of Katie Kratz Stine who recently announced that she was retiring after a distinguished career as Commonwealth State Senator. Most of her work as Public Health Nurse was with the public schools where she could reach clientele quickly and effectively.

Dickison recalled that when she began in Pendleton County there were four grade schools; grades 1-6; three schools, grades 1-12; one Afro-American school, grades 1-6; and one Catholic school, grades 1-6. The latter two schools lasted only a few years into Dickison's tenure and students were integrated into other schools or were absorbed otherwise. Nonetheless, getting around to all of the above schools and each classroom on a timely basis by herself was a major work load.

"I would get up before daybreak to sterilize the needles and to prepare for the day's work," she added, "Nowadays nurses do not use the same needle twice; then, we reused; hence each had to be carefully sterilized before the next day's operation."

School children were in awe and fear of her. One lady told me that some boys would crawl under their seats when they saw her coming. Another said that she made her pee on a stick. And, Nurse Dickison said that some schools had better discipline than others, depending largely on the principal. She recalled visiting the late Virginia Shotwell's classroom which had a rambunctious third grader. "When I asked if he were ready to be promoted, Ms. Shotwell replied that he did not deserve to be promoted but that for her sanity, she was going to promote him to the next grade."

Nurse Dickison said that they had problems with head lice, particularly with one school. She recalled an old fashioned remedy that was used by many parents when she first began her nursing in Pendleton County. Treat the head hair with a mixture of kerosene and lard for three consecutive nights, then wash the hair each morning with shampoo. Comb the hair with a fine tooth comb dipped in hot vinegar to remove the nits that were locked onto strands of hair. Dry the hair thoroughly with a clean towel or cloth.

Finally, she said that bed clothes should also be washed daily until the pests were eradicated. But, she added, this old fashioned remedy is not recommended today, because of possible side effects from the use of kerosene.

Head lice was a major problem in the schools, she said, because lice, if unchecked, would suck blood from the host, and children from unsanitary homes frequently were carriers of these pests; thus creating a social problem for administrators.

Another problem of major consequence was viral hepatitis, Nurse Dickison continued. It was located in one particular school. She noted that it was characterized by enlarged livers and yellowing eyes and skin. It was difficult to detect the source of the problem, but it was finally established that the drinking water was contaminated when a plumbing "T" for two water supplies rusted. One supplied river water for toilets; the other supplied water to a cistern for general use. When river water got low, the "T" was used to direct cistern water to toilets. During this process, river water seeped into the cistern, thus contaminating the drinking water of the school.

These are but two of many stories about the work of this Public Health Nurse in Pendleton County; there are many others.

I asked Mildred Dickison for her high and low in nursing. She immediately responded with her low. She was assigned to care for a young mother who had breast cancer. She was performing her duties when she pulled back the patient's soiled surgical dressing and observed her naked heart beating. It was about the size of a silver dollar. She said that this experience unnerved her even though she had been trained to avoid getting emotionally involved with patients.

Her high she swapped for a bit of humor. A crotchety old man patient was irritated by his nurse who was exceedingly solicitous with "Honey" talk, especially concerning him providing a urine sample. With a twinkle in his eyes, he seized some apple juice and poured it in the urine cup. When the bubbly nurse made her rounds, she picked up the urine cup and remarked, "My, my, Honey Doll, it looks a little cloudy today!"

To her astonishment, he grabbed the cup from her and downed the apple juice in one swallow. Wiping his lips, he growled, "Let's run it thru again!"

Mildred said that she worried about an issue that had sent her to the hospital in recent years. She did not divulge her problem and we did not press the question. But as I looked at this lady who had been thru so much and who seemed to personify toughness to the point that she would probably giggle at the Grim Reaper, I'm betting she overcomes! How about a 100th birthday party to get the show on the road!

P.s. Do we ever feel choked by the smallness of our world? Do we ever feel like we need to do something for the good of mankind? Visit a patient or more in a nursing home. They cherish a visit!

Citizen concerned for America's future

Dear Editor,

I am greatly troubled by some states making marijuana legal. What is wrong with the AMA letting this occur?

Do people realize what effects this drug has on them? Why legalize this when they have banned the use of tobacco? Things just do not add up. I guess it is just like Washington, too wishy washy on their decisions.

I do hope that Kentucky never comes to this. Millions of dollars was spent to stop tobacco, now they spend all kinds of money to legalize dope.

Sincerely,
Paul Purcell

A letter of thanks and love to the great people of Pendleton County, Kentucky

Dear Editor,

Saturday, June 7, 2014 was such a loving and great day for a great W.W.II Veteran, Chaplin Shelby McDowell. God sure helped all of us make this a great, great day to this great man. I sure would like to say thanks to all you great people of Pendleton County. I will be real sorry if I leave out somebody's name in this letter. That is why I am a dumb hillbilly, but I try to do my best for the great veteran that gave us our freedom. Here are the names of all that gave Shelby's awards: Falmouth Police Department, city of Butler, Woodhead family, Mike Moore, Veteran Henry Bertram, Captain Shaw U.S. Army-478th Bn, Wyatts Super Value, Senator Katie Stine, Ky. Representative Tom McKee, this great lady Billy Jo Chaplin, all four Pendleton County schools, N.J.R.O.T.C, The Falmouth Outlook, city of Falmouth, Veteran Carl Anderson, Veteran Chris Paul, Government of Ky. Officer Mr. Robert Moore, Pendleton County Clerks Office, Bill and Cathy Ashcraft, Larry Fields, John L. Griffen family and Mary McDowell.

Mike and Tom, you sure done a great job of showing your love for mom and dad. Shelby I am so sorry it took me so long to get this done. God bless this great man and God bless America. Thank you God for helping me.

Sincerely,
Bill Ashcraft

Falmouth Festival Committee expresses gratitude toward all contributions to a great Fourth of July

Dear Editor,

We would like to take a moment to say thank you to everyone that helped us have a fun filled day for our community on the Fourth of July.

The Falmouth Outlook always creating a space for us; Eric Love for the use of his restaurant for our fund rasing breakfasts; Dr. Schafer and "River Valley" for the wonderful music; Meijer of Cold Spring for the beach balls; Dan Woodhead and family as our grand marshall; Dave Marquette for the use of the firehouse; Pendleton County Rec Board; Bingo for the contribution; Gary Lea and staff for getting bleachers, dumpsters, ect., in place for us; Pendleton County city of Falmouth; everyone that volunteered their time and help at the firehouse and everyone that supported our efforts to provide a great day for our community.

We regret if we missed anyone, it was not our intent. Our next event will be for Halloween and we hope to see you then.

Sincerely,
Falmouth Festival Committee

Try these ten tips to save money inside your home

Whether you're a homeowner or a renter, savvy approaches to running your home can save you money according to house smart experts.

These simple tips won't take much time or effort to execute.

• Programmable Thermostats: Available for about $50-$100, programmable or "smart" thermostats can save hundreds of dollars yearly on electricity bills, taking the guesswork out of finding a comfortable temperature for your home. Some models even come equipped with Wi-Fi so you can turn down the thermostat remotely.

• Low-flow shower: Don't wash money down the drain. By taking the environmentally friendly step of replacing outdated showerheads with new low-flow models, you can reduce your water use in the shower by 25 to 60 percent, as well as increase hot water efficiency, according to Energy Department statistics.

• Extra payment: Over the course of a 30-year loan, one additional mortgage payment yearly can save thousands on annual interest payments.

• Unplug: Many gadgets and appliances consume power even when turned off, a phenomenon known as "phantom power." Unplug or use a smart power strip to save an estimated five to ten percent on electric.

• House plants: With air pollution levels increasing, improving indoor air quality is important. But air purifiers can cost hundreds of dollars. Consider houseplants to remove toxins from the air and add color, warmth and comfort.

• Dodge the draft: As a house ages, hot and cold air from outside often creeps in. Weatherproofing is an inexpensive, simple task that can save up to 15 percent on heating and cooling costs. There are a variety of weatherproofing products, including v strip, felt, and foam tape. Research what your home needs. You can also get a home energy audit to discover ways to improve your home's interior quality.

• Do-it-yourself: Redecorating can make a home feel new. However, professionals often come with a hefty price tag, so use online resources to jump on the DIY bandwagon or check out free DIY workshops at hardware stores like Home Depot and Lowe's.

• Ceiling fans: An air conditioner uses 3,500 watts of energy, while a ceiling fan only uses 60 watts. Ceiling fans can even be useful during winter. Set the fan to run clockwise and the reverse motion will push warm air down from the ceiling.

• Shop your home: Before buying new home accessories, look for budget-friendly tweaks you can make. Rearrange furniture and lighting to change the feel of any space or switch decorations between rooms to make both feel different.

• Laundry: Consider washing most clothes (except towels and linens) in cold water. Use the dryer efficiently by filling but not overfilling the machine. Some energy-efficient appliances can qualify your family for an additional tax credit.

Exploring ways to reduce home expenses can help you save for important upgrades down the line.

Stormtroopers appear at fair

Imperial Stormtroopers, members of the Galactic Empire from the Star Wars Universe, showed up at the Pendleton County Youth Fair this past week. They patrolled the grounds and kept the area safe for fair attendees. Both children and adults alike had many questions for them and enjoyed their visit from a galaxy, far, far away.

Bobcat caught on camera in Pendleton County

The photo above was taken with a night vision hunting camera. It shows a pretty good-sized bobcat that was spotted in the southern portion of Pendleton County recently. Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Officer Scott Horn said that in 2013 there were two killed in Pendleton County and six killed in Bracken County. Statewide in 2013, there were 1,253 killed and 1,936 trapped for a total of 3,189.

Religion

"The Lord is a refuge for the oppressed, a stronghold in times of trouble."
~ Psalm 9:9

Berlin Baptist

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Bro. Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Bro. Dan's message was taken from I John 4:1-10 titled, "If the spirit is of God it will not be defeated." We also received a message from Kevin Richardson, Regional Advancement Director at Sunrise Children's Services. Kevin spoke about the success stories of the children at Sunrise and also the financial challenges that Sunrise encounters each year.

Butler Baptist

Bro. Daryl sermon was from Haggai 1. Have we gotten distracted and lost our focus? God demanded that the people of Isreal quit making excuses. We have also lost our focus and put other things before God. We are to put God first and follow His instructions. We are to take care of the things of God first, not ourselves. He does not get what is left over, He gets His first. There is nothing more important than learning about and serving God. We allow other things to occupy our time and money. God loses out and we miss a blessing. God gives us second chances to do His work. We must make sure that we do not neglect God's call on our life. We must go out and teach the truth to others. We need to obey Him in all areas of our life. God gives us hope for our obedience. No matter where we go, we know that He is with us. What are your priorities? Do you need to refocus? Are you missing God's blessings?

Chapel Of Praise

Rev. Joseph Girdler from the district office of the Assemblies of God officially installed Rev. Kevin Clos as our new pastor during the morning service.

Rev. Girdler preached an anointed message titled, "What's in a name?" His text was taken from Luke 1. There are over 250 names in the Bible for Jesus and His name speaks of healing, protection, deliverance and salvation.

The book of Proverbs tells us that a good name is rather to be chosen than great riches and loving favor rather than silver and gold.

After the morning service the congregation enjoyed a fellowship meal that was prepared by the women of the church.

We were blessed to have the Libby Colemire family in service with us.

We invite you and your family to attend service with us! For more information please call 859-654-6006.

Falmouth Baptist

Our time of worship at Falmouth Baptist Church began with another of our youth sharing special music. Haven Wolfe accompanied herself on the piano and beautifully sang "Let Them See You." Thank you Haven for shining for the Lord.

Thanks also to those that helped with our "work day," those that worked at the mobile food pantry and those that worked the gate/parked cars/handed out cold water at the Pendleton County Youth Fair. Your service to others is very much appreciated.

Why do people turn away from Christ? Some reasons might be objections to His teaching, fear of what man will say/think, doubts, power, earthly pleasures, counting on tomorrow, or because the life we live is a hindrance to them receiving salvation. Our hope it that all will chose Christ and none will be thrown into the fiery furnace, where there will be weeping and gnashing of teeth. Matthew 13:50.

Falmouth Christian

Bro. Rick's message was taken from John 3:1-23 titled, "The Lighthouse."

God is our lighthouse and we must follow Him if we want to be in heaven. Because God gave His only Son to the world and all who believe in Him, shall not perish. Confess your sins and be baptized in His name.

The Pendleton County Cooperative of Churches had a concert at the youth fair by "Trial By Fire," a contemporary Christian band from "FIREhouse Ministries." We also had "Paul's Ministry," a bluegrass band. They were both great and we had a love offering of over seven hundred dollars.

Pray for everyone who is sick and those who have lost loved ones.

Sunday school 9:30 a.m., worship 10:45 a.m. Come join us!

Falmouth Wesleyan

Sunday's message was both sobering and challenging. I Peter 4:1-6 shows that Christians need to be more serious about sin. Serious enough to suffer and be thought of as strange by former friends, and perhaps family. Several people went to the altar to meet the challenge. Praise God!

Sunday evening's message was from Mark 6:43-52. It encourages Christians not to give up in this journey to reach the goal. The One who sent us, has given us all we need. He knows every struggle we go through. His glory will shine even in the darkest places of our lives!

Join us Sundays: 11a.m., and 6 p.m.

From 5:30- 9 p.m., this Friday, August 1 we are having a one day Vacation Bible School. Ages four to 14. Parents/Guardians are welcome to stay. We will have fun, food and grow closer to God! Hope to see you there!

First Baptist

Abram Crozier blessed us with special music on this week's beautiful Sunday morning. Bro. Harry's message was taken from Luke. In order to prepare for spiritual fitness, we must put on the yoke of Jesus Christ. All Christians are called to spread God's word. Are you participant or a spectator? In order to get God's word out to everyone we have to participate.

We have several names on our prayer list and added more this week. Please pray for the lost, the sick, those who have lost loved ones, our military, our country and our community.

Looking for a church home? Visit with us at First Baptist Church, where love abounds.

"Prayer is the road to heaven, but faith opens the door!"

Harvest Community

Bro. Damian's message was based in the scripture text of Revelation 22:1-21. Revelation is, above all, a book of hope. It shows that no matter what happens on earth, God is in control. It promises that evil will not last forever, and it depicts the wonderful reward that is waiting for all those who believe in Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord.

Keep our youth and chaperones in your prayers as they are in South Carolina on their mission trip. We pray that their lives will be enriched from this experience along with the lives of the ones they will come in contact with.

Prayer concerns: Elstun Bobb, Jim Bergman, Tina Arevalo, Tyler Fields, Adam Daugherty, Greta King, David Money, Brenda Ambercrombie, Gary Holmes, Bro. Joe Hall, Barbara Singer, Phil and Janice Wiggins and all those traveling for vacation.

May all be blessed with a beautiful week!

Morgan Christian

Our service began this morning with praise to God for fantastic weather this past week. Kathie's Children's Moment was about becoming fishers of men. She led the congregation singing, "I Shall Make You Fishers of Men." Steve Work gave a moving testimony and blessed us with singing "Redeemed." Steve Wood's message was "Jesus Loves Me." Much rejoicing when Chris and Alison Moore joined our fellowship. Chris by confession of faith and Alison by transfer of membership. Duke Wilmes and Jimmy Godman served at the table with deacons Dawn Wood, Lois Work, Sharles Whaley and Earl West serving the Lord's Supper.

David Wu and family will be joining us the weekend of August 2 and 3. Dominos at 5 p.m., Saturday and at 9 p.m., movie "Heaven is for Real" at Steve and Dawn's house. David will be bringing the message that Sunday.

"God loves you because of who God is, not because of anything you did or didn't do."

Mt. Moriah

Our congregation is happy to be back in our church on Highway 17. Bro. Breeden talked about a "New Beginning" for our church. We are a body of believers not just an organization. Visit some of these scriptures he shared; Hebrews 1:7, John 21:17, Matthew 20:28, Ephesians 6:7 and Phillipians 2:7. Jesus was a servant and He wants us to be servants that are "on fire" to serve others. Don't worry about your reputation, worry about your character. Your attitude reveals if you are a flame of fire to be a servant. These are some of the many people on our prayers list: Julie Utz, Jim Hammack, Rosalee Lafollett, Barb Singer, Glen Shell, Kathy Jackson, Northkey Work Shop, the Oldendick twins, Elly Mae, many family members that are traveling, our country and various others. Join us at 10:45 a.m., for our worship next Sunday on Hwy 17 North.

New Hope

Many parents are beginning to prepare their kids for the return of school. There are supplies and new clothes to buy. Parents will also find out who are their children's new teachers and schedules. For some, it will be time to learn a new school and a new bus. A good parent will prepare their children for the arrival of a new school year.

A good parent also needs to prepare their child for another return. This return is Jesus Christ. Unlike the return of the school year, we do not know when this return will take place. You also cannot buy your child into heaven. You must teach them about Jesus Christ and His sacrifice. You must prepare them to believe in the Lord. A good parent will prepare their child for this return. Are you and your child ready for the return of Jesus Christ.

New Zion

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship is at 11 a.m., and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study and the Cross-Fire Crew meetings are on Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Upcoming opportunities: August 3 there will be a deacon's meeting at 5:30 p.m. The Sharing Circle will meet at 6:30 p.m., August 15, don't forget to bring a purse for the purse swap. At 6 p.m., August 23 there will be a Hymn Sing.

Psalms 19:14 "Let the words of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart, be acceptable in thy sight, O Lord, my strength, and my redeemer."

Please remember in prayer Janet Bishop, Tina Cochran, Larry Johnson, Christopher Earls, Dale Colemire, Sherry Colette, Daisy Whalen, Rebecca Call and the Lenox, Groves and Pickerell Families. Also remember to pray for our country and its leaders.

Pleasant Ridge

Happy birthday Doshia Baker and Roger Sullivan.

Happy 35th Wedding Anniversary Doug and Arlene Gosney.

Thanks to Tracy Gosney for heading up VBS this year, and to all the volunteers and parents who took time to give the children an experience that will touch their lives.

Bro. Rick's message was from Exodus 20:4-6. "You shall not make idols. Never bow to an image or worship it in anyway, for I, the Lord am very possessive. I will not share your affections with any other god."

When you have a desperate area of need in your life, is that the only time God comes to mind? And once that need has passed you forget about God.

When man stops worshiping God, he starts worshiping himself with disastrous results. How big is God to you!

Sunday night Bible study will be from various books of the Bible on Christian belief.

Pine Grove

Sunday, July 20, our church services opened with our call to worship, song service, Apostles Creed and other preliminaries. Melanie Redden added to our worship service with a rendition of hymns.

Carol continued her sermon from the book of Daniel stressing his faithfulness to God.

Our Dream Kids will be having their monthly day of Bible school from 11 a.m., to 1 p.m., Wednesday, July 30. We encourage our parents to bring their children and be a part of this activity. Their lesson this week will stress the Ten Commandments.

In our prayers let's remember the sick, bereaved and our youth. God's blessings.

Oakland Christian

In the absence of Bro. Jim, our youth/associate minister, Jordan McNabb, brought the sermon telling us that God is also a "Persuader."

A "Back to School Undy 500" is from 1-5 p.m., August 1 for toddlers through fifth grade. Lots of food, crafts, games, movies, etc. All children are encouraged to bring a new pack of underwear (up to size 12) which will be donated to Taylor Elementary and Southern Elementary Schools. That evening, beginning at 7 p.m. and ending at 9 a.m. Saturday morning, will be the "Back to School Lock-In Bash" for grades sixth and up. We are asking for donations of school supplies.

Turner Ridge

Sunday morning was an amazing time of worship! We celebrated the week of VBS that had just ended and prayed for God's love to grow in someone's heart from the Bible stories they heard at VBS.

Gale Gregg's family shared their experience on the mission trip to Cayce, Ky., and also hope that lives will be changed from the trip.

The children's message "Discover, Decide, Defend" gave Bro. Dale the opportunity to share with the kids, that through the week of Bible school they had been showed the evidence that everything you need to know to share Jesus with someone can be found in the Bible, read your Bible and be prepared to tell others what you know about Jesus.

Chloe Baumgartner read scripture, Ephesians 4:1-3, and Bro. Dale's message titled, "Fellowship: How Practically?" Galatians 5:16-17, helped break down the ways we can experience fellowship both with God and other Christians.

Please pray for those having surgery and families that have lost loved ones. Join us Sundays or Wednesdays we would love to have you!

Help livestock beat the heat

Humans aren't the only ones that suffer from the heat of summer. Farm animals feel the heat, too. With summer temperatures already upon us, it's time to think about ways to know when your livestock may be in danger from the heat and what to do to reduce their plight.

The University of Kentucky Agricultural Weather Center provides warnings of the potential danger to livestock. Livestock become uncomfortable when the heat index reaches about 90 degrees. The heat index is a combination of air temperature and humidity and is used to describe how it feels outside.

The Agricultural Weather Center regularly monitors heat indices across the state and provides an index of its own – the Livestock Heat Stress Index – to help producers know when heat stress could create a problem for their animals. The county-by-county index indicates three levels of heat stress: no stress, danger stress and emergency stress.

Periods of heat stress call for livestock producers to be vigilant in making sure their animals are adequately prepared. One of the most important things producers can do is provide cool, clean drinking water. Providing an adequate source of drinking water helps to keep animals' internal body temperatures within normal limits. Above-ground water lines need to be shaded so they do not can act as solar water heaters and make the water too hot to drink.

It is also important for animals to have shade and for buildings to be as open as possible for adequate ventilation. Sprinkler systems that periodically spray a cool mist on the animals can also be beneficial.

It is best to avoid working animals during periods of heat stress. Producers should also avoid transporting livestock during high levels of heat stress. When livestock must be transported, haul fewer animals per load. Planning trips so the animals can be loaded immediately before leaving and unloaded quickly upon arrival can likewise help minimize the risk.

Producers who want to keep up-to-date with the Livestock Heat Stress Index can access it by typing in your zip code in the left column on the Agricultural Weather Center's website http://weather.uky.edu or go to the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service's website at https://pendleton.ca.uky.edu/ and click on the weather link and then scroll down the page to the last row in the table.

Try making better drink choices

Most of us realize the importance of keeping sugars and fats to a minimum in our diets, but often we only apply that to the foods we eat. The types of drinks we are consuming could be adding empty calories and causing us to gain extra pounds. Consider this: a medium full-fat mocha adds 400 calories to your diet while a 20-ounce soda, on average, contains has 250 calories and a fruit drink adds 230 calories. Many times, these are extra calories we haven't accounted for, and as a result, they could easily push us over our daily calorie limit and cause us to gain weight.

Consuming large amounts of sugar-sweetened beverages has been linked to obesity, a decrease in HDL (good) cholesterol, an increased risk of type 2 diabetes, heart disease, hypertension and gout. While many of us equate sugar-sweetened beverages with soda, many more drinks fall into this category, including sports drinks, lemonade and fruit drinks, sweet tea, energy drinks, sweetened coffee drinks and sweetened bottled water.

Water should be your go-to beverage, as it quenches your thirst without adding calories. Substituting sugar-sweetened beverages with water could help you lose or maintain weight.

Some people don't like the blandness of water or get tired of drinking the same thing all the time. If you are one of those, adding fresh fruits or herbs to your water can produce interesting flavors without adding too much sugar and too many calories. Some examples of fresh fruits and herbs that are good flavoring options are: citrus fruits, watermelon, kiwi, pineapple, berries, mint, rosemary or basil. Get creative. Add combinations of fruits, herbs, and flavorings such as berries, mint and cardamom.

If you're still not wild about water, you can make healthier drink choices nonetheless. Here are some tips:

Practice portion control with your drinks.

Drink fat-free milk.

Order plain or non-fat coffee drinks over full-fat options.

Leave off whipped toppings.

Use sugar-free sweeteners to sweeten your drinks.

Drink diet soda instead of regular.

Limit fruit juice intake to no more than 6 ounces a day.

Only consume alcohol in moderation, and if you do drink, choose lower-calorie drink options.

Using social media wisely

Social media is very much a part of our culture, and many young people and adults regularly use the sites to connect with their friends and family. When used appropriately, social media can be very positive. When misused, there can be serious consequences for a family. Instances of cyberbullying and sexting have increased with the popularity of social media. In some cases, thieves have used social media accounts to find their next victims.

Some social media sites have member guidelines, such as Twitter and Facebook that require account holders to be at least 13 years old. However, some young people falsify their ages to gain entry into a site.

Here are some tips to help you and your children safely navigate social media sites.

Make sure you and your child use your real names and ages when activating social media accounts.

Personal information such as social security numbers, home addresses, phone numbers and when you're on vacation or not home, should not be posted on social media sites as it could make your family a prime target for thieves.

Make sure your child personally knows each person listed as their friends or followers. Your friends and followers should also be limited to people you know.

Utilize social media privacy settings, but realize that not everything you say on social media is private.

Check your child's and your friends' accounts to make sure no one has posted any private or inappropriate information about you or your family. Ask your friends to remove any information involving you or your family that you feel is inappropriate or private. Remove tags from any inappropriate photos your friends may post of you and your family.

Remind your child that what they say and do online can have real-life consequences.

Encourage your kids to talk to you if someone's online behavior makes them feel uneasy or threatened.

Chocolate Coffee Smoothies

It would be difficult to get much more perfect summer weather than what we have been experiencing. Last night we had a nice rain that cut the humidity and cooled everything and everyone off once more.

My 16-year-old sister, Mary Grace, who lives next door is here helping me for the day. We are doing cleaning in preparation for Daniel's family from Danville, Ohio who plan to come for a visit this weekend. We're excited to see them again. We also did some cooking today. With mashed potatoes being one of Daniel's favorite hot dishes, we made a huge batch. Then divided it into small containers to be frozen. It's very handy to thaw and heat at a moment's notice.

Our two and a half-year-old daughter Julia is in her glory. Mary Grace helped her bake caramel apple cupcakes and now they're working on her favorite part which is, of course, putting sprinkles on top of the frosting.

On Monday morning after doing the laundry I checked the sweet corn and found it to be golden yellow, ready for harvest. Obviously the coon had discovered the same thing the night before, but it fortunately hadn't done a lot of damage yet.

Have you ever heard of husking corn right on the stalk? This simplifies the task and saves a lot of time. With both hands, firmly grasp the husk on top of the ear then put it down to the base of the cob and snap it off. After doing several with this method you won't want to go back to the old way of picking everything then husking it all.

Earlier this morning on my walk I noticed Dad picking corn in their patch. I talked with Mom and found out they have lots of corn that needs to be done. I took our corn down to her house. We pooled everything together, it makes the task so much more fun when working with others. She had a good set-up in her back yard where we washed, blanched and cut the corn from the cobs. Their set of three burners, attached to a propane tank, had the corn boiling in no time!

Here' a tip for simplifying the cooking process, especially if you have mega amounts of corn: use an old pillowcase or make your own sack, put 20-30 ears of corn in it and submerge in boiling water. Hold the top part of the sack up out of the canner, place lid on top and flip the remaining part over the lid. When ready to remove the corn from the canner, instead of doing it piece by piece, grasp the sack and lift it all out at once. Dump the corn into cold water and proceed like you generally do.

This morning at the crack of dawn my husband Daniel was up and ready to tackle our new project. He's starting to build a deck behind our house trailer which I'm very excited about. With living in a mobile home we have limited space. Hopefully this will add a new dimension to it.

Next year we'd like to build a roof over it and have part of it screened in. It'll be a nice place to eat supper on hot summer evenings. I also look forward to doing some of my canning out there as well.

I decided Daniel deserves a special treat with all the hard work he's doing so I made chocolate coffee smoothies for him. They are always refreshing, especially on summer days.

I will include our recipe in case some of you may be interested in trying it. After experimenting this is what we came up with. We use maple syrup as our sweetener. My brother, Micah, taps maple trees and cooks large quantities of syrup, so we always have an ample supply of it. Perhaps I can fill you in on more details in a future column.

Sugar may be replaced with maple syrup if desired. Also for those of you who are peanut butter lovers like me, you may want to add a dab of peanut butter.

Ingredients:

- 3 cups ice cubes or frozen milk chunks
- 1 cup whole milk
- 1/2 cup maple syrup
- 2 teaspoons instant coffee
- 1 tablespoon chocolate syrup
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Directions:

Put everything in a hand-cranked or electric blender and blend until smooth. Pour into glasses, top with a dab of whipped cream if desired. Enjoy!

August 3-9 proclaimed National Farmers Market Week

Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack has declared August 3-9, 2014, "National Farmers Market Week." Throughout the week, USDA will celebrate our nation's thousands of farmers markets, farmers who make them possible and the communities that host them.

The declaration was made via an official proclamation signed by Secretary Vilsack. This year marks the 15th Annual National Farmers Market Week recognizing the important role that farmers markets play in the agricultural and food economy. The U.S. Department of Agriculture began declaring National Farmers Market Week in 2000.

"National Farmers Market Week is a great opportunity for farmers markets across the country to host special events to showcase all the tremendous services they provide," said Secretary Vilsack. "Farmers markets play a key role in developing local and regional food systems that support family farms, and help grow rural economies. They bring communities together, connecting cities with the farms that support them and provide Americans across the country with fresh, healthy food."

In honor of National Farmers Market Week, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) Administrator Anne Alonzo will be at the Dane County Farmers Market located on the grounds of the State Capitol building in Madison, Wisconsin on Saturday, August 2. The Madison farmers market is the largest producer-only farmers market in the U.S. On August 8, the USDA Farmers Market, located at USDA headquarters in Washington, DC, will host a Healthy Back-To-School Challenge to show kids and their families how to cook simple, healthy, and delicious snacks with seasonal ingredients. Other USDA officials will be at other farmers market locations across the country throughout the week.

Thousands of farmers markets across the country offer consumers fresh, affordable, convenient, and healthful products sold directly from the farm. They also offer additional market opportunities for local producers, especially smaller or newer operations. Farmers markets increasingly offer electronic benefits transfer technology that can be used by recipients of USDA's Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program - as well as low-income women, infants, and children and seniors participating in the WIC and Senior Farmers' Market Nutrition Programs - to get fresh, seasonal ingredients.

Farmers market development is a cornerstone of the USDA's Know Your Farmer, Know Your Food Initiative, which coordinates the Department's policy, resources, and outreach efforts related to local and regional food systems. Secretary Vilsack has identified strengthening local food systems as one of the four pillars of USDA's commitment to rural economic development, along with production agriculture (including expanding export markets and improving research), promoting conservation and outdoor recreation opportunities, and growing the biobased economy.

Disaster Assistance 2012 frost or freeze fruit crop losses

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) today announced Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) assistance for losses to bush or tree fruit crops due to frost or freeze during the 2012 crop year. The program, authorized by the 2014 Farm Bill, provides supplemental NAP payment to eligible producers.

Farmers who did not have access to crop insurance and are in primary and adjacent counties that received a Secretarial disaster designation because of frost or freeze in 2012 are eligible for NAP assistance. Losses due to weather damage or other adverse natural occurrences may also qualify for program assistance.

NAP enrollment begins July 22, 2014. Applications must be submitted to FSA county offices by Sept. 22, 2014.

"After the 2014 Farm Bill was enacted into law, USDA expedited the restart of disaster assistance programs as a top priority," said FSA Administrator Juan Garcia. "Fruit producers experienced significant financial losses from weather-related damage in 2012. NAP provides them with long-awaited disaster relief."

To expedite applications, producers who experienced losses are encouraged to collect records documenting these losses in preparation for the sign-up in this program. Producers also are encouraged to contact their FSA county office to schedule an appointment. Limited resource, socially disadvantaged, and beginning producers are eligible for premium reductions and also may be eligible for fee reductions.

Interested producers can view the 2012 NAP Coverage for Frost, Freeze or Weather Related Fruit Losses Fact Sheet athttp://go.usa.gov/5kSQ, or visit a local FSA office. To find out if land is located in an eligible frost/freeze county, visithttp://go.usa.gov/53rz.

Today's announcement was made possible through the 2014 Farm Bill, which builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past five years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, USDA has made significant progress to implement each provision of this critical legislation, including providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. Parcel Number: 006-00-00-017.01.

Subject to all restrictions, conditions and covenants and to all legal highways and easements.

Commonly known as: 486 Mount Carmel Road, Williamstown, KY 41097
This property is being sold to produce the sum of $116,842.93 together with interest at the rate of 4.500% per annum from March 1, 2011 until paid, plus the costs and fees of this action, reimbursement for attorney fees in this action, sums advanced in payment of ad valorem taxes, insurance premiums, winterization, or in preservation of the real estate, plus late fees, costs, attorney fees, and other advances made pursuant to the terms of the Note and Agreement.
The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;

2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;

3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;

4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;

5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;

6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;

7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;

8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.
